

What kind of construction makes more sense? Wood frame and drywall... Or concrete block?

BENEFITS:

BENEFITS:

- Block is competitively priced.
- Block prevents heat loss which makes it energy-efficient.
- Block is quieter.
- Block manages moisture.
- Block does not burn.
- Block prevents the spread of fire to adjacent dwellings.
- Block greatly reduces the chances of structural collapse.
- Block does not produce toxic gas, smoke or fumes.
- Block can help lower insurance premiums.
- Block costs less to maintain, with no periodic testing or inspection required.
- Block eliminates mold growth.

You decide.

When it comes to construction – residential, commercial, industrial – concrete block makes (dollars and) sense. Concrete block is stronger and safer than wood. It is a more effective sound barrier. It retains its value, yet is easy to maintain – and is environmentally friendly.

If you want it built to last,
make sure it's built with Block.

Contact CCMPA

The Canadian Concrete Masonry Producers Association (CCMPA) represents concrete masonry producers and suppliers across Canada, many of whom have operated for decades and are industry leaders when it comes to durable, fire-safe construction. In addition to giving them a strong voice, CCMPA supports and regulates them by setting and maintaining standards, establishing training, and conducting research that results in continued manufacturing excellence and a better, more resilient, longer-lasting product.
